Third Annual School Fair

Friday, October 5th has been set aside for the date on which the Didsbury School Fair is to be held. This is the third such fair which has been held in Didsbury and each succeeding year has brought about such an improvement that the present one should be almost as good as the Agricultural Fair.

These fairs are held throughout the province in various schools and are for the purpose of exhibiting work done by the pupils and the competition is quite keen in many cases. In this fair all the schools in the Didsbury district are to compete and this means that there is such a large district to draw from that entries are almost bound to be numerous and of good quality.

The fair is run along the same lines as that of the larger fairs there are classes for vegetables and grains, cooking, sewing, art, manual training and, calves, poultry etc. and these classes are all usually well filled. Prize lists have already been gotten out with full particulars.

Not to be forgotten either is the program of sports which have been arranged. This program commences at 2 p. m. sharp and features all the races etc. which carry off a day like this with the proper pep. In the evening for those who come in and wish to stay there is a show which should be a drawing card for numbers and is quite appropriate for the day. A dance will follow the show for those who care to remain.

As the Didsbury Agricultural Society is not putting on a fair this year a good crowd is expected at this one, which will be well worth taking in. Give the rising generation the support they deserve for their efforts by attending it. It will be worth your while.

WILTON, CLARK—LIESEMER

A very pretty wedding took place last Thursday afternoon at five-thirty o'clock at St. Stephen's church, Calgary, when Miss Beatrice Madeline Liesemer, of Didsbury, and Harry Woodward Wilton, Clark of Coleman were united in marriage by the Rev. Canon James officiating.

The bride, who was exquisitely gowned in oyster white crepe, wearing a veil of tulle caught across the brow with a coronet of silver leaves entered the church on the arm of her father. She was attended by Miss Betty Mitchell of Chinook, who wore a draped gown of peach colored crepe, lace-trimmed, and a large black picture hat, carrying a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Goldwin Liesemer, brother of the bride, acted as groomsmen.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in one of the private diningrooms at the Palliser, the guests being received by the bride party. Mrs. Liesemer, mother of the bride, was becomingly gowned in black crepe headed in black and white.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilton, Clark left for a short trip to Banff and Lake Louise, the bride travelling in a coat of beige tricot with white collar and cuffs and a smart hat of royal blue. On their return from the mountains they will reside in Edmonton. Both the bride and groom have many friends in Calgary and in this district. Mr. Wilton, Clark having attended Mount Royal College, later joining the R. A. F. with which he served overseas. Both formerly attended the University of Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilton, Clark stopped off in Didsbury for a couple of days to visit the bride's parents before going to Edmonton. They were treated to a chivree by some of the younger members of the town on Tuesday evening who were sent away with the wholehearted to leave fond memories of the happy couple.

GIVE YOUR RED CROSS A BUSHEL OF GRAIN

In the midst of your plenty this year, do not forget your Red Cross, which needs your membership and needs your subscription. The annual drive for membership and finance starts this week. Your Red Cross should be ready to help you in your need—now it is your turn.

HERE IS THE PLAN!
WILL YOU DO YOUR BIT

YOU will never miss a bushel of grain when you hand your next load to the elevator and tell the elevator man that you wish to donate some grain to the RED CROSS. He will give you a cheque immediately for the cash value of the number of bushels you wish to give. In addition to this he will add five cents per bushel as a donation of the elevator company to the Red Cross. You endorse the cheque payable to the Red Cross and hand it back to him. He will then send it to the PROVINCIAL RED CROSS HEADQUARTERS, and you will receive an acknowledgment in the form of a membership certificate and button direct from us.

It is estimated that if each farmer with 1-4 section gives 2 bushels, with 1-2 section gives 5 bushels THAT, with the cash donations from the towns and cities, the Alberta Division quota of $35,000 will be reached easily. This plan has the endorsement and recommendation of

The Lieut.-Governor of the Province.
The Committee of The Alberta Wheat Pool.
The Alberta Elevator Companies.

YOUR RED CROSS calls upon you again in the name of suffering humanity to give from your plenty for the benefit of those less fortunate. 25 per cent of all monies collected will be spent on RED CROSS ACTIVITIES IN THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA, such as rural hospitals, nursing services, etc. 15 per cent will be Alberta's share for Japanese Disaster Relief.

DO YOUR BIT AND DO IT NOW

Canadian Red Cross Society

Alberta Division.
If you prefer to make your donation in cash, send your cheque to: The Honorary Secretary, Canadian Red Cross Society, Alberta Division, 108 Bowker Building, Calgary.

CHAPTER ONE

I was brought "Margaret Anne" and Father and Mother always called me by the double name.

When I was quite tiny, Mother, who had the keenest imagination of any woman I have ever known, taught me to pretend that I was two little girls, so that I should always have someone to play with. Margaret fit me very well, the dainty sister, who never forgot to hang up her coat and hat, who shut doors quietly and always said, "Please" and "Thank you." But Anne was the tomboy who would rather climb trees than go to school, the lover of whose stockings were sure to exhibit holes at the most embarrassing times, and who was always getting into scrapes out of which the more thoughtful Margaret had to extricate her. As I grew older Mother confessed to me that she had begun the game with a purpose. She had realized, she said, that I was of a temperament that was likely to get me into trouble in after life, and so she had tried to make me see that each side of me had qualities to be cultivated or developed. The impulsive Anne must be trained to think the outward life of one's surroundings as a thing to be mastered, and to avoid slipping into a materialistic and selfish woman. I believe now that Mother exaggerated the situation somewhat, but even so I find myself sometimes, Margaret, and sometimes Anne. It was, for instance, Anne who married—but I am running ahead of my story.

Father died when I was ten. I remember him as a quiet man of the scholarly type, always gentle and very patient with me, but one who would not be humiliated. I know how that he was worried for he knew that he could never leave Mother and me with practically nothing to live on. He taught Latin and Greek and Mathematics in the Collegiate in Winnipeg, and even yet I never heard him tell old women who told me that he was the most wonderful teacher they ever had. Take all that, and he was a man with a dream. Teaching did not mean to him the reaching of untried facts into the plastic brain of a child. It meant the sowing of the world's store of knowledge in such a way that the mind would be fitted for life, would be able to apply his learning to the problem of everyday existence, and to develop the finest type of citizenship. Growing out of this ideal was Father's plan for a new method of teaching languages. Only last week I showed Mother the pile of manuscript notes that Mother had kept for me, the outline of the text book that Father had some day to write. Here was the outline, it shows the broad view of the subject, the history, geography, philosophy and sciences are all made to contribute to their share, and Greek and Latin become, not dead languages, but a living link in the long chain of the progress of the race.

As I said before, Father died when I was ten. We buried him in Old Kildonan and then Mother and I discussed what we should do. I can remember how proud I was that Mother should consult me, and it did not occur to me then that in her loneliness she was merely thinking aloud. Child as I was, I was delighted when she told me that she had seen the Superintendent and that he was the very person I attended. She had taught for a short time before her marriage, but she would always say, "I was never a teacher of your father's sort. I taught because I had been brought up to believe that was the way in which a lady ought to earn her living without being craven."

We sold all but our most precious, our books and pictures and china, and, with the good fortune that is the nearest thing to a miracle, we found out most without looking for it, the place that was for many years a real home. On Ronald Street, which was not then the street of boarding houses that it has since become, you can still find the old cottage, shabby now, but in the mood. It is a real cottage, not the modern bungalow with its rooms and its electric and lived in by the poorest people that were ever put into the world to teach us to grow old gracefully—but I am running ahead of my story.

The Robertsons had a small income, but not enough to keep up the home they loved. And Mother, I think, Father's, who was also a friend of the poor, persuaded them to take Mother and I in on a trial basis. They had two rooms—"in the room," Father had said, and I was mostly puzzled until I saw the place. But when I discovered for myself the fascinating life of a country house with windows turned to the opposite way from those of other people's houses, my mystification gave place to love, and I have lived in the old house ever since. My grandmother and Grandfather Robertsons took us only into their home but into their hearts, and the sight of a "soul of a Light House-keeping room" would never be paid for what they gave us. They loved us and we loved them, and they were the best of friends to those who could not live like them and the widow.

When I was ten I considered my Mother to be quite an elderly person, though at that time she was only thirty-two. She was a pretty woman with very charming ways, and as I grew older I realized that she might have been once very married again, for she never mentioned the subject but I heard an old but fearless friend remarking that she was.

Now I will not understand this now, Margaret Anne, she said to me, "But try to remember what I say and when you are older it will come back to you. A woman is often tempted in this world to take a second best. But at the same time, she knows, what alone will satisfy her will be one who will choose to endure whatever comes. Mrs. Stevenson is a kind woman, and she means well, but she should not have come before you as she did. Your mother will never put another man in your father's place, and I think her child to share her with someone else."

For eight years Mother and I lived a very quiet life, but to me at least a very happy one. We always had to count our pennies, but we were not poor, and as for my girl-chums, they always seemed as glad to come to my home as to the home of the wealthier members of our circle.

Social life was much simpler in Winnipeg, then, than it is now. Even wealthy people sent their children to the public school quite as a matter of course, and many of the women who are now leaders in the younger world married so very soon. And, quite frankly, I believe that they will never compare with those of a later generation who are the product of private schools and of the university.

I do not mean to say that twenty years ago Winnipeg was in the Golden Age of absolute social equality, but it had undoubtedly more of the pioneer spirit than it has today. Even then, our first set and our exclusive set, our snobs and our clubbers, but I do not think that the more getting and spending of money was held to be quite so much important as it is today. People who had "roughed it" more or less in the early days were, in most cases, satisfied with a comfortable home and an assured income. Even had they desired it, there was not the opportunity for ostentatious spending that there is now.

Such conditions made it possible for Mother and me to live as we did. People of the sort with whom she had brought up, and I can truthfully say, we were very uneducated socially by the fact that we had to make our own way in the world.

I went to school in the English which then. Then I took a course in stenography and in a few months was ready for an office position. Mother, I think, would have liked me to be a teacher, but I had little inclination to follow her and Father's footsteps in that respect. Margaret saw very clearly that while a teacher gave greater respect to the community than almost any other member of it, the rewards were small indeed.

I went to school and earned part week of that sort on a financial basis," said Mother, when we discussed the subject.

Whereupon I retorted, "No, but a moral compensation will not pay the great cost of living." But there had been no financial problem. I should have gone to college. At that time I saw myself as a doctor, a nurse, a lawyer, even a teacher, but I could not see Father's traditions. But could I ever support me for another four or five years? I had, besides, an idea that women were more important in the business world than they had in the past. I remember a story in the local paper that I had been told on the fact that I was a teacher. I should have to spend two or three years in country schools before I could hope for a place in Winnipeg, and eventually she became reconciled.

For four years we both worked, and during that time we began to accumulate the little fund that was so great a comfort to Mother. But I had been fortunate in finding employment in one of the offices where salaries were good to begin with, and where increases came regularly, and when in 1912 my salary was raised to the third time I insisted that Mother should resign and take the rest that she had then needed. All my powers of persuasion were required to make her see that such a course was unwise, but at length I succeeded, and so long as I live I shall be thankful that I was able to resign even that small part of the debt I owed.

With the lifting of the constant strain of teaching and controlling day in and day out fifty wild young animals of the human species, Mother seemed to grow younger as the months went by. From all the necessity of having to conserve her strength for her work, she was able to get out again, to accept all the situations that came her way, and to live freely of her time and energy to the Church and charitable work in which she had always been so greatly interested. And she was still able to do the things that she loved in her spare time. For years she had occasionally written and sold a story for children, a romance, a short story for grown-ups, about children, and now that her time was her own she wrote the Robertsons, rather than any wishes. I felt that we might have had a small cube of our own in one of the apartment blocks, but at any hint of this Mother would say, "No, we are living cheerily and very comfortably here, and it would be foolish to move. What we can spare we must save for your education, and then I would laugh at her and change the subject. For at that time I was firmly convinced that I had been protesting in a business career, and Mother could never be persuaded to take me seriously.

Looking back now I find it hard to realize how much my work affected my life at that time. At first I hated the office work and I hated the work from the hard and odd side of life more than I knew, and, nevertheless, I had very little knowledge of men and their ways in the business world. It is funny now to think of the day when the words of one of my chums shamed out a complaint at me in language more forcible than courteous, but then it was tragic. The mistake on which she blamed me had been made by one of the other girls, and while Margaret wanted to cry Anne wanted to fight. However, to parody Kipling, "I learned about men from him," and in time I acquired the necessary superficial attitude toward my fellow workers.

And almost imperceptibly I became more and more interested in the work and I am afraid I was rather hard on the girls who were then so dominated by them and not by me. I did not realize then that they, in many cases, had no social life, and no opportunity to make friends outside of the office with people with whom they worked. I do not think that I was exactly snobbish, but I was happy that I had very little in common with any of the other girls. My friends were still the girls and boys with whom I had gone to school—it made no difference to me whether the Manager's stenographer asked me to go to luncheon with her or not, or whether the man at the next desk looked upon me as a machine. I was not a snobbish person, but I was only natural, I suppose, that I should have looked with youthful scorn at my colleagues, but the things were matters of importance, but I am just a little sorry now that I was so selfish—and that I failed to grasp the truth that the girl who has a home and a circle of friends and the girl who is quite "on her own" must be judged differently.

Graduate Nurse Finds "The Perfect Remedy"

"From my long experience as a professional nurse, I do not hesitate to say Tanbac is nature's most perfect remedy," is the encouraging statement given out for publication recently by Mrs. L. A. Jordan, 125 Pontiac Ave., Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago.

"I have used Tanbac extensively for seven years in the treatment of my elderly patients," said Mrs. Jordan, "and my experience has been that for keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly, and for toning up the system in general, it has no equal."

"About a year ago I had a lady patient who could not keep a thing on her stomach, not even water. I prevailed on her to try Tanbac and after the sixth bottle she could eat absolutely anything she wanted without the slightest bad after-effects."

"I had another patient who simply could not eat. I got him started on Tanbac and by the time he finished three bottles he was eating ravenously and able to work."

"These two instances are typical of the wonderful merits of the medicine. My confidence in Tanbac is unlimited."

Tanbac is for sale by all good druggists.

EXCRUCIATING PAINS, CRAMPS

Entirely Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Edythe Ont. — "I started with cramps and bearing-down pains at the age of eleven years, and I would get so nervous I could hardly stay in bed, and I had such pains that I would scream, and my mother would call the doctor to give me something to take. At eighteen I married, and I have four healthy children, but I still have pains in my right side. I am a farmer's wife with more work than I am able to do. I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel that it is helping me every day. My mother-in-law who has been taking your medicine for some time and uses your Sensitive Wash, told me about it and I recommend it now, as I have received great relief from it." — Mrs. NELSON YOTT, R. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for ailments common to women. It has been used for such troubles for nearly fifty years, for thousands of women have found relief as did Mrs. Yott, by taking this splendid medicine.

If you are suffering from irregularity, painful periods, nervousness, headache, backache or melancholia, you should at once begin to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is an excellent strengthener of the system and helps to perform its functions with ease and regularity.

SUMMER COMPLAINT CRAMPS and DIARRHOEA

There is no other kind of disease that comes on so quickly and with so little warning as an attack of bowel trouble.

One may retire at night, in the best of health, and in the morning be awakened by terrible cramps and pains in the stomach followed by diarrhoea, dysentery, summer complaint or bowel trouble in one form or another.

At this season of the year, when bowel troubles are so prevalent, we would advise the precaution of always having on hand a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry so that you will be ready for any and all emergencies. You will find that a few doses of this valuable remedy, taken promptly, will be the means of preventing a great deal of unnecessary suffering and many a time save life.

Mrs. W. H. Judd, 174 Catherine St., Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"Last summer I had a very bad attack of summer complaint, cramp and diarrhoea. I tried many different remedies, but they did not seem to help me. I heard of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so decided I would try it. I only took a few doses, and in a short time I was better."

Natural Resources Bulletin

Natural Resources Bulk Largely in Our Export Trade

The Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, says:

The extent to which Canada's natural resources enter into her export trade is shown by the figures for the year ending March 31 last. Agricultural products, the backbone of our export trade, are represented by agricultural and forestable products, amounted to $107,290,000, or 33.3 per cent. of the total, while animal products amounted to $104,370,000, or 31.6 per cent.

The forests with their products of wood and paper, supplied a value of $225,750,000 to our export trade, or 24.5 per cent., while mines and minerals contributed $123,147,000, or 12.3 per cent. Fisheries, Canada's first natural resource to be developed, showed exports of $27,502,000, or 2.9 per cent. of the total, while chemical products, derived entirely from our natural resources and largely due to our unexcelled waterpower providing facilities for their manufacture, showed exports of $14,047,000, or 1.5 per cent. of our total export trade. With such a showing made by our $285,000,000 population it is not much to be wondered at that Canadians are proud of their natural resources.

Muscular Rheumatism Subdued.—When one is a sufferer from muscular rheumatism he cannot do better than to have the region rubbed with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Let the rubbing be brisk and continue until ease is secured. There is more virtue in a bottle of it than can be fully stated.

Americans in Canada

Twelve Per Cent. of Our Population Said to be From U.S.

Few people would credit the extent to which the American people have come to permeate the Canadian Dominion, especially the Western Provinces, in recent years. In the year 1871, when the first census of the newly federated Dominion was taken, Canada was found to have a population of 2,455,761, and of these 241,162 resided in the Dominion as the United States. This was equivalent to not quite seven-tenths of 1 per cent. of the total population. At the time of the 1901 census there were 127,399 citizens of American birth in Canada. In that of 1911 there were 202,689, representing 17 per cent. of the total population of the time. From 1911 to 1921 a total of 748,118 citizens of the United States entered Canada, so that at the present time there are well over 1,000,000 people in Canada who have been citizens of the United States, or something like 12 per cent. of the total Dominion population.—E. L. Chicoutot in August Current History Magazine.

Australia Air Post Pioneer

Has Covered 2400-Mile Flight Plainly For Two Years

Australia placed herself on being one of the pioneers in air postal service, and recent competitions have brought out some interesting facts in this connection.

In 1921 an aerial distribution service was started in West Australia with a 1,200-mile route over the most desolate part of the state. The aero planes carried both mail and passengers. The planes ply between Geraldton and Perth with a punctuality of arrival and departure that varies only a minute or two on the round trip of 2,400 miles.

Air postal services are also in operation in other states.

Simla Prays By Electricity

Government Selves Devotedly Granted By Buddhist Priests

When English engineers wished to build an electric light generating plant for the city of Simla, Buddhist priests opposed the plans because upon every available mountain stream the faithful had installed prayer-mills operated by the current. Upon the wheels were fixed prayers, and each turn of the wheel was a prayer offered to the gods, as efficacious as if offered by word of mouth. It would be a sacrilege, they said, to use the water for industrial purposes.

The government ordered the difficulty by directing the electric light company to install motors to drive the prayer-mills, so that Simla now prays by electricity.—Itinerant Christian Work.

QUIET TIMES

—According to the merchants in town there is at the present time a natural slump in business. However there is one thing sure: business hasn't stopped altogether. Someone is getting a little all the time. Is it you or the other fellow? There is only one way to break in a quiet spell—and that is to make a noise. Business goes to those who ask for it, and the logical way is advertising, which is realized by the largest concerns in the country. Keep hollering about your merchandise—a lot of sales come from those that didn't get you the first time.

What men in "big business" have proved successful should also prove successful to the man in a small or concern. The man who WANTS business will go and GET it. The most practical way is to solicit and the medium of a local paper is the best that can be obtained in any district. Because it is an expression of the people themselves and looked upon by them to fill a place which even the largest papers of the world cannot fill. It is of local interest. And the merchant who wants business will ask for it. Truly the people shop where they are invited to shop. However there is advertising and advertising but the best way to get business coming the direction you want is consecutive advertising. The man who steps in water once a month will never learn to swim. It is the keeping at it that counts as much in advertising as in learning to swim.

Didsbury merchants have this opportunity as well as the largest houses in the Dominion, many of which are household words in Canada—why—because they advertise themselves.

THINGS MUST HAVE BEEN A TRIFLE SLOW WITH ADAM, MANY YEARS AGO

The things that worry chaps today. They never bothered Adam. The same old office day by day. The lawn to mow, the flowers to spray. The ever recurring race to pay. Old Adam never laid 'em. But think of all the joy and elbow 'T at never came to Adam. The thought of Christmas once a year. A game of golf, a yacht to steer.

Or bottles full of nearly beer, Poor Adam never had 'em. Life must have been a weary trek. For dear old, queer old Adam. Without a place to cash a check. No motor cars to race and week. Nor one-piece bathing suits, by heck. For Eve, the never had 'em.

PARALYZER OR CATALYZER?

Are you a paralyzer or a catalyzer? Everyone knows what is meant by a paralyzer. He may be a boss or a common laborer, but wherever he is on the job, the other workers never do their best. His very presence and attitude paralyze their efforts to a greater or less extent. Not everyone knows what is meant by a catalyzer. There is really no such word. It should be catalytic agent. But catalyzer means the same. It is a chemical term for a substance which by its mere presence causes or helps chemical action to take place. Platinum is a very powerful catalyzer and was in great demand during the World War for this purpose.

Among men, a catalyzer is one who is a boss or a common laborer, who by his mere presence improves the spirit and increases the work of the gang.

Are you a paralyzer or a catalyzer? —Simond's Guide for Millmen.

Messrs. C. Adgehead and Geo. Lunt attended a convention of the Retail Car Dealers Assoc. held in Calgary on Tuesday. One of the interesting features was an address by Mr. Wm. Gray, Pres. of the Gray Dorr Motors Chateau, Ont. Owing to increase in cost it was predicted that the price of cars would advance in the near future. A very enjoyable banquet was also attended by them.

(1) Captain A. J. Hailley, R.N.R., commandant of the "Empress of Canada," was born at Bradford in 1874. In 1909 he joined the Canadian Pacific and in 1919 received his first command. During the war he commanded hospital ships, including the "Empress of India" and the "Manitoba." His appointment to the "Canada" date back to the launching of the liner. His last assignment was the captain of the Blue Ribband of the Pacific for the fastest journey across.

(2) The "Empress of Russia" was built by the Fairfield Shipbuilding and Engineering Co., Ltd., of Glasgow, has quadruple screws and driven by steam turbines, which develop a speed of 20 knots per hour. She is a product of English best engineering and has the utmost in accommodation and luxury.

(3) The "Empress of Canada," 21,000 ton liner, was the second liner to give aid and shelter to destitute of the Oriental typhoon. In addition to carrying about 500 passengers, she took 1,500 more on board where they received clothes and medical attention. She recently came to the daylight when she captured the Blue Ribband of the Pacific, making the voyage from Yokohama and Vancouver in 8 days, 10 hours and 55 minutes. Her next winter program includes an elaborate cruise of the world, where she will take a limited number of globe trotters to no less than 15 foreign ports with many inland excursions included in the itinerary.

(4) The "Empress of Australia," after called the pride of the Pacific on account of her luxurious and comfortable accommodations, rides with a length of 326 feet and is an unshaking model of a registered tonnage of 22,000 tons.

(5) Captain Robinson, R.N.R., of the "Empress of Australia," whose heroic feats on the scene of the Oriental disaster, has prompted the Spanish ambassador at Tokyo to order the King, recommending the best of a derision. Captain Robinson is one of the most popular shipmen on the Pacific and has served on Canadian Pacific ships since 1895.

CRAPHIC tales of the Oriental disaster are daily being received on this continent. Many of them contain harrowing experiences of surviving inhabitants of Tokyo, Yokohama and most resorts nearby, and make true the age-old adage: "Great disasters have produced great men."

Canada's participation in rescue work in the Far East was the first foreign aid to reach that stricken country and to-day the world has learned of unaccountable feats of bravery, deeds of generosity and self-sacrifice on the parts of several Canadians, who at the time of the typhoon were engaged in missionary or mercantile fields.

To Captain Robinson of the "Empress of Australia," and Captain Kent, river pilot, the country stands indebted for the rescue and saving of 4,000 lives. The report goes on to state that the "Australia" was making ready to sail for Vancouver when the city of Yokohama was seen crumbling and smothered under the tidal wave. The sea became so agitated that other ships broke loose and rammed the "Australia" including her propellers. In spite of such handicaps, Captain Robinson called his big liner to safety, where it became the home of over 4,000 destitute survivors.

The "Empress of Canada," which happened to be one day out from Yokohama when the first dispatches were flashed across the broad Pacific, wasted no time in rushing to the scene of destruction. The day was employed in providing accommodation, foodstuffs and clothes to these refugees whose need was most urgent. No less than 1,500 refugees found shelter on the "Empress of Australia" and were conveyed to Shanghai where medical attention and care are being provided by the authorities.

With every available inch of her cargo space crammed with foodstuffs for the earthquake stricken thousands of Japan, the "Empress of Russia" sailed from Vancouver on September 6th. Owing to her superior speed, the "Empress of Russia," included in a fleet of three relief ships now under way, is expected to be the first to reach Japan on September 17th.

THE O. S. A. SOON TO OPEN FOR TENTH YEAR

Opening of the 1923-24 term of the Olds School of Agriculture, at Olds, Alberta, will take place on October 26th. The term closes next spring on March 25th.

The farmers of this district should be well acquainted with the excellent courses in agriculture and domestic science given at the school at Olds. The courses, given free to boys and girls from the farm, over 16 years of age, are of a most practical nature, and calculated to fit the students for their future life on the farm, and for their responsibilities as citizens in their respective communities.

No requirements are asked of the students in entering these courses, save the ability to read and write, and to make use of what they learn.

The course is of two years' duration, with terms of five months each, so arranged as to be most convenient for the sons and daughters of farmers. The course in agriculture lays particular emphasis on animal husbandry, field husbandry, and farm mechanics, including practice in gas engineering, blacksmithing and carpentry. There is also instruction in agricultural physics, chemistry, bacteriology, farm management and bookkeeping, mathematics and English. Entomology and botany are also taught.

The two year course in domestic science affords opportunity for the young women of the province to train in economic management of the home. Both courses lay the foundation for more advanced study if the students wish to take it.

A well equipped dormitory for the women students is maintained under school management, where board and room may be had at $25.00 a month. Men students may obtain board and room at $7.00 a week. Those wishing information may obtain it by writing the Principal of the Olds School or the Department of Agriculture at Edmonton.

Here and There

Russia has more illiterates, and at the same time more bookshelves than any other country in Europe.

The largest consignment of silk from the Orient for many months, consisting of 8,500 bales, valued at $9,000,000, formed part of the cargo of the "Empress of Russia" recently.

A shipment of silk from China, consisting of ten carloads, valued at two million dollars, went forward from Vancouver to New York under special guard over the Canadian Pacific lines recently.

The first of a series of six new seaplanes being constructed for the Canadian Government has just been delivered. The new planes are to be used in forest patrol for the prevention of destruction by fire.

Following the disastrous earthquake and fires which devastated large areas in Japan, the Canadian Pacific liners "Empress of Canada" and "Empress of Australia" were thrown open to the accommodation of thousands of refugees, while the officers and men of the vessels did splendid work in organizing and assisting rescue parties.

The rapid increase in the export butter trade of Saskatchewan during the past year or two, has been the outstanding feature of the Provincial dairy industry. Recently the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries made a shipment of 26,000 lbs. of butter to China.

For almost two decades the major portion of the world's supply of cobalt has been derived from the silver-cobalt-nickel arsenides of the Cobalt district, according to figures compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The cobalt production of Canada in 1922 was 58,980 pounds, which at $3.25 a pound, would be worth $1,907,370.

Canada's trade within the Empire is increasing. For the twelve months ended July, Canada exported to other parts of the Empire goods amounting to $453,437,899. This is in comparison with $484,992,074, the figure for the corresponding twelve months previous. Imports from British Empire countries during the two twelve months periods were: Ended July, 1923, $195,811,190; ended July, 1922, $154,165,581.

A wheat crop of 382,610,000 bushels is forecasted in a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The report is based upon the condition of crops at the end of July, and indicates that the Prairie Provinces will produce 357,255,000 bushels of wheat if weather conditions continue favorable. Manitoba, it is expected, will have a total wheat yield of 44,469,000 bushels; Saskatchewan 211,051,000; and Alberta 101,776,000 bushels. Alberta is the only province to show an increased yield as compared with 1922.

A party of five journalists, representing the leading newspapers of Switzerland, who recently arrived at Quebec, are the guests in Canada of E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway. They will tour the Dominion in the interests of Swiss colonization. Stems will be made at different points where Swiss people are farming, and opportunity will be given to members of the party to converse with them and get first hand knowledge as to the desirability of Canada as a place for Swiss colonists.

WHEN you make your trip to the Far East, in which China must be embraced, you will be sure to visit Hong Kong and Canton, for both places are renowned in poetry and prose the world over. You cannot, very well, call at Hong Kong without "making your number" at Canton, for the places are only eighty miles distant from each other.

The Canadian Pacific "Empress" call at Hong Kong and from there you can proceed to Canton by either train or river steamer. Those in the "know" usually go by train and return by steamer, or vice versa. By the train you will be able to feast your eyes on southern China inland scenery and village life. By the steamer you go up or down the Canton river. Both journeys are interesting but the run on the Canton river will be more enjoyed. A number of the Canton river steamers, as well as being large, fast and powerful vessels, will take a lot of beating on regards accommodation, table and general service. There is at all times plenty of excellent company on board—visitors like yourself, and European residents in various parts of Asia—in whom you will discover charming and instructive companions.

There will be so much to attract your attention in Hong Kong that your heart's desire will be to "just see every place of interest at one time." As your steamer glides into the magnificent harbour hundreds of the Hong Chinese junka will be thrust upon your view, under sail, tacking, "going about" and at anchor. They are all picturesque to a degree, with their rich brown sails, peculiar rigging and their hulls with an eye on the port and starboard sides of the bow, for, as the Chinese will explain to you, "Suppose no got eye, no can see."

Stretch before you, as your steamer passes to her wharf at Kowloon, is the noble Praya—now named Victoria Road—or waterfront. The mansions of Shanghai call their waterfront. The Bund, Part of the Praya, in the left, is land reclaimed from the sea. Splendid buildings, with their tiers of verandahs, have been erected upon it, among which is that of the Hong Chinese Club, one of the most luxurious social institutions in the world.

No Definite Information In Regard To Rumors Of More Bank Mergers

Toronto.—Following the prediction of Sir John Aird, General Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, that more mergers of Canadian banks are possible, the air has been full of rumors as to banks "in difficulties" that might lead to amalgamation. There is, however, no definite information along this line in regard to any banks.

However, it has been stated by leading bankers that recent events have changed the situation, and while more mergers may come, it is believed that in no case are the difficulties so acute that an amalgamation, merger or absorption, with or by a stronger institution, would not fully protect shareholders as well as depositors.

Ottawa.—Ritchie H. W. S. Fiddling, Minister of Finance, announced that at the request of directors of the two banks concerned, and in conformity with the provisions of the Bank Act, he has given his consent to the merger of an agreement for the sale of the assets of the Bank of Hamilton to the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

"This," said Mr. Fiddling, "is the first official step in the matter. The agreement, after all details have been settled between the two banks, to be effective, must have the approval of the Governor-in-Council."

"Bank mergers," said Mr. Fiddling, "are not popular with the public, and the minister of finance is naturally disinclined to give his consent to such unless there are urgent reasons for the merger."

Turkey Will Fight Brigands

Detroy, Ontario.

Amos.—Felix Day, the new Turkish Premier, announces that the new government is to be one of action. The most important problems confronting it, he asserts, are economic and financial and the restoration of security throughout the country.

"The eyes of the whole world" is declared in a statement, "are fixed upon Turkey and we must immediately begin to put into effect the most urgent reforms up to the limits of our financial capacity."

The proclamation of the war, Felix Day says, has increased brigandage and rendered certain regions of Turkey unsafe. All the forces of the government will now be employed to destroy the brigands.

Reparations Solution Appears No Nearer To-day Than A Year Ago

Guard Against Bandits

Banks Along Southern Border Will Take Precautions

Winnipeg.—Reports from the Manitoba wheat crops men will be coming in. Banks throughout Southern Manitoba, realizing the danger from the looting expeditions of the marauders from the other side of the line, who last year terrorized the southern portion of the province, are taking extra precautions for the protection of the farmers' money. Provincial police detachments along the border are more active than ever before.

Commissioner H. J. Martin, head of the Provincial Police, has left for the boundary in a personal tour of inspection of defence and detachments will be gone for a week. During this time he will also confer with bank managers in some of the more exposed boundary towns, and complete arrangements for the protection of the banks. It was stated that the banks would not carry one cent more in funds this fall than possibly could be avoided.

Airplane Passengers Start Fatal Panic

Deprive Pilot of Control When Engine Trouble Developed

London.—A French passenger airplane crashed near Mantes. One passenger was killed and the pilot and nine passengers were seriously injured.

Engine trouble developed during the flight and the pilot was forced to land. It is believed that he would have executed a safe landing, but the passengers, in a panic, rushed to the rear of the machine, overweighing the tail and depriving the pilot of control.

May Buy Wheat From Pool

Representatives From England Now Looking Over Feasibility

Winnipeg.—Representatives of the Cooperative Wholesale Society, Limited, of England, are in Winnipeg to conduct an investigation into the possibility and advisability of buying Canadian wheat direct from the proposed cooperative pools. The society has 4,000,000 members in Britain, an annual turnover of £100,000,000, and sells 300,000 bushels of wheat weekly.

"Opening Doors," by Ellen Marsden Elliot, is the title of the new serial story which is offered to our readers this week. It is a story dealing with western rural conditions, and will be found of absorbing interest.

Fifty Bushel Crop

Lethbridge.—A. P. Hughes, of Baxens, threshed 1,000 bushels from a 2-acre field of spring wheat on his farm at Sandhill. The wheat graded number one. This is the first 50 bushel crop reported this year. Several 30 bushel crops have been recorded to date.

London.—Belgium's latest reparations note is considered by British Government officials, to whom it was addressed, as offering little or no advance toward a solution of the Ruhr problem.

While appreciating the generous language and the marked civility of the document, British Foreign Office experts were vigorously forced to admit that its financial proposals fall far short of Great Britain's expectations. British officials professed to see in the note only evidence of composition by Premier Poincaré of France.

Some surprise was expressed at the new statement of Belgium's claim to indemnity. British experts reaffirmed their view that Belgium was showing herself too exacting in this respect in view of the allied generous action in wiping out the £150,000,000 owed them by Belgium, and the further fact that the Belgians have already received about $30,000,000 of the total of $50,000,000 reparations due them from Germany.

The suggestion by the Brussels Government that the percentages agreed upon at the Spa conference be revised receives scant sympathy from the British, who see in such a plan a cancellation of both the British and Italian shares of the indemnities.

Broadly, therefore, it is held in governmental circles, that a reparations solution is no nearer today than a year ago, and that whatever sender hope there is for the future rests with the personal meeting of Premier Lloyd George and Premier Poincaré before the former returns from his vacation in France.

Prince to Spend Quiet Holiday

Will Not Accept Any Public Engagements in Canada

London.—An official statement about the Prince of Wales' visit to Canada says the Prince's plans are now complete. He will embark on the Empress of France on September 5. On reaching Canada he will proceed direct to his ranch in Alberta, where he will reside during his whole stay in Canada. He is due back in London on October 20.

All statements published about the Prince's acceptance of public engagements while in the Dominion are without exception incorrect. He has not accepted, nor will he accept, any public engagements of any kind in connection with his coming Canadian tour.

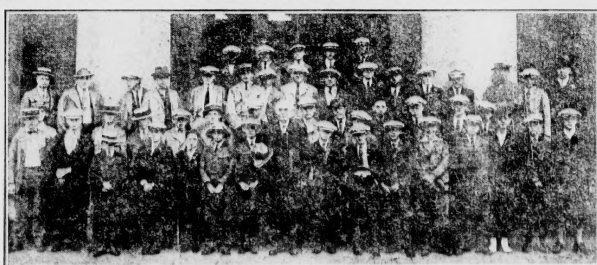

In the first place he will not appear in Canada as the Prince of Wales, but as the Duke of Cornwall. In the second place, he is not in any sense making an official tour, but is merely going as a private gentleman to spend a quiet holiday on his estate in Alberta.

Winnipeg to Edmonton Telephone

Winnipeg.—Winnipeg talked with Edmonton over telephone wires. Hon. John Brocken, Premier of Manitoba, carried on a conversation on crops and wheat pools with Hon. V. W. Smith, Minister of Telephones for Alberta, and over the 500 miles of wire their voices were heard distinctly. It was the longest all-Canadian telephone route so far established, said Mr. Brocken.

Aviators Drown

Atlantic City, N.J.—Capt. Frank Fishenden, veteran of the French foreign legion, escadille, and the only unengaged pilot in active service in the United States, and Gunner Lindlie, were drowned before hundreds of persons when their seaplane took a nose-dive in Lake's Bay, near here.

Forty-four of Detroit's brightest boys photographed in front of the Canadian Pacific station, at Vancouver, B.C., enroute to Alaska in charge of George Buchanan, wealthy bachelor, of the former city. Every boy in the picture, including Donald Blaine, who is the first boy on the left in the front of being the only Canadian in the party, earned at least one-third of the cost of the trip, the remaining two-thirds being met on a long term loan agreement between the boys, Mr. Buchanan and their parents. The youngsters who had to attain certain other standards before being admitted, earned the right share by selling lead pencils, acting as an aggressive campaign of paper selling in New Island, Alle.

BASE BALL FANS DISSAPPOINTED

Rather keen disappointment was felt here on Wednesday morning when it was found out that the Edmonton-Rockyford baseball game here had been called off.

The Senior Championship game of Alberta, between the Edmonton Red Sox and the Rockyford team had been scheduled to be played in Didsbury last Friday. Owing to difficulties and bad weather it was put off and arranged to be played here this Wednesday and local fans as well as a large number of outsiders were keenly expecting to see a good game. With this in view an agitation was started for a holiday in town from 1 to 1 o'clock and Mayor Chambers sent around a petition which was of course well filled. Considerable trouble was also gone to in putting the baseball diamond into shape and advertising was sent out for miles.

Therefore when word came through on Wednesday morning the day of the game, that Edmonton could not come down, there was much disappointment expressed in the matter. Edmonton gave as their only reason that they could not get up a team to come down.

This will probably mean that Rockyford will now have to play off with Medicine Hat for the championship, in which event of course it can not be played off here, according to information from Mr. J. McChes, Pres. of the A. A. B. A.

THE KID

Charles Chaplin the comedian has accomplished the impossible in his latest picture, "The Kid." First National's six reels of joy, which will be the attraction at the Opera House on October 5 and 6. Directors, previous employees and others associated with him in his screen career had pronounced it impossible—that he appear in his screen character in a semi-dramatic story and succeed in gaining sympathy as well as laughs from his audiences in the plight which the plot developed.

In "The Kid," however, according to critics and others who have seen it, he accomplishes it. Charlie is there in the same character which has gained him the place as the world's most popular comedian, but in situations which combine an occasional sob with shrieks of laughter. Charlie becomes the guardian of a two weeks old baby, and depends upon him all the love and devotion that any father could. His character, however, now his every attempt a humorous circumstance, but the heart throbs are ever present in the main theme of the story.
